GENERAL KELLEY'S DEPARTMENT.

A Battle Going on Near Meigsfield.

Trade to West Virginia Unrestricted.

Baltimore, Feb. 4, 1864.

Mr. John P. McPherson, the Surveyor of the port Baltimore, received from the Treasury Department Washington today the following regulation, which opens the transportation of merchandise to West Virginia.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Feb. 2, 1864.

The Secretary of War having transmitted to him the letter of the commanding general, expressing the opinion, in reply to a letter addressed to him by the Secretary of the Treasury, on the following subject, that restriction on all trade in the State of West Virginia within the national military lines may now be safely removed. The twenty-ninth regulation of trade, established with other regulations on the 11th of September, 1863, is so far modified that all restrictions on trade in the State of West Virginia within and between the lines are cancelled and abrogated, and all products and goods may be freely taken out and transported within the above mentioned portion of said State, as in time of peace, provided, however, that no products or goods shall be taken from said State into any State declared to be in insurrection, or to any port in any such State heretofore blockaded, which has been or may be opened except in compliance with the regulations of September 11.

S. P. CHASE,

Secretary of the Treasury.

MEADE'S ARMY.

Mr. N. Davidson's Despatch.

CORRESPONDENT CORRE, Feb. 4, 1864.

ARMED SERVICE IN THE COMMAND OF THE ARMY.

There is a rumor here to the effect that Major General Emory is to be in command of the Army of the Potomac.

REPORT OF MEADE'S LOGIC.

Captain B. Clinton, Quartermaster upon General Patterson's staff, has just concluded some work at Brandy Station of two or three thousand cubic work of sutler's goods, which have been seized and confiscated during the last two months for violations of the army regulations. These were generally old goods, nearly up to Washington tariff, while the property was in merchantable order. These sales were to persons authorized to trade within the lines, and were exclusive of liquor, the latter having been turned over to the Medical Department. The quantity thus disposed of during the same period is stated at about five hundred dozen bottles.

GENERAL NAUGHTON'S ACCOUNT.

William Miller, Captain J. I. Twentieth New York State Militia, one of the train guards, fell from the train to-day as it was starting from Fairfax station, and four cars passing over him, was killed.

Mr. William Young's Despatch.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Feb. 4, 1864.

DISORDERED ON THE TRAIN.

On the train yesterday and the day previous there were a large number of deserters, en route to Washington, where they will take the oath of allegiance.

DISORDERED COMING IN.

Recounting the men, deserters continue to flock into the lines of each of the cavalry divisions and the second, third and sixth corps. Nineteen deserters from Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi regiments came into General Gregg's train two days ago, some of whom have in the day since offered two weeks and less in the mountains. They report that the mountains are full of deserters striving to reach the lines, between which and themselves rebel cavalry are continually scouring the country.

THE VIRGINIA GOVERNOR'S WORK.

General Governor William Smith, it is known, has or had a house in Warrenton, where Mrs. Smith now resides. His house is in part occupied as the headquarters of General Gregg by whom the rebel Governor's property is protected. It is related that before General Gregg made her house his headquarters, some of our cavalrymen hit their horses at the fence in front of the lady's mansion. Sailing shortly after a cavalry brigade commander, Mrs. Smith was present against the indignity, stating that she was the wife of a brigade general and the Governor of Virginia, and claimed that she was entitled to some consideration and protection consequently.

SOCIETY IN WARRENTON.

The ladies of Warrenton extend a very cordial welcome to our officers and soldiers, and they are, therefore, quite frequently invited to evening parties and other festivities. It annoys the rebel soldiers that Union sentiment is developing itself in Warrenton, and they have threatened to drive our forces from there. The commissary supplies large quantities of goods to the citizens of Warrenton, who otherwise could not get a best.

THE WARREN GREEN FORD.

Officers have formed a club which meets at the Warren Green Hotel, where took feasts of roasts and few of soldiers are enjoyed.

FOOTING A SECOND TIME.

A day or two since, while some half dozen rebel deserters were marching under guard through the streets of Warrenton, two ladies—one of whom was strongly eschew—wondered whether they were deserters or prisoners. The second lady ventured the opinion that they were prisoners, and questioned them on that point. One of the deserters replied that they were prisoners, whereupon second female clasped her delicate hands together for joy. Passing on, the deserter remarked, out of her hearing, "Don't I feel her good?"

The Newspaper Despatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4, 1864.

Greatly exaggerated reports have been published as if the number of rebel deserters received by the Army of the Potomac, they averaged last month from five to twelve per day. But the official returns show that this far is the present truth, and, however, at any time exceeding the latter estimate.

A letter from the Army received to night says—"Last Monday was the time appointed for the rebel conspirators of Virginia to assemble at the various rendezvous. Refugees say a large portion declined doing so, and many will probably reach our lines."

General Birney's ball on Tuesday night afforded much pleasure to a large company.

Within the last twenty-four hours we have passed through every grade of the seasons from summer's heat, with thunder and lightning, to cold producing, ice an inch thick. A cold south wind is blowing this morning, but the weather is clear and pleasant.

There is nothing exciting from the front.

IMPORTANT FROM ARKANSAS.

Inauguration of the New Loyal State Officers—Solemn and Affecting Scene.

CAIRO, Feb. 4, 1864.

The inauguration of the officers chosen by the State Convention of Arkansas took place on the 22d of it, in the Senate Chamber, at Little Rock. It was a most solemn and imposing affair. After a prayer by the Rev. James Butler the Governor addressed the assemblage in a touching and impressive manner. The ceremonies concluded with the administration of the oath of office to Governor Murphy, Lieutenant Governor Bliss and the Secretary of State. The scene was most affecting, and many persons were moved to tears as the solemn words that bound the new officers to loyalty to their country and duty to the Union were uttered and responded to.
